D. OBJECTIVES, FUNCTIONS & SCOPE OF KISAN KHIDMAT GHARS

The Holistic Agriculture Development Program is a 5-year transformative initiative aimed at revolutionizing agricultural practices in the Union Territory of Jammu & Kashmir. Under this visionary program, the establishment of Kisan Khidmat Ghars (KKGs) represents a crucial step towards enhancing agricultural outreach and providing comprehensive services to farmers at the grassroots level. The KKGs, as part of the Innovative Extension Project, serve as one-stop service centers strategically located at the panchayat level. These centers act as focal points for the dissemination of information, advisory services, and the delivery of agricultural schemes directly to farmers' doorsteps. The primary goal is to bridge the gap between farmers and essential resources, ensuring timely access to quality inputs, information, and support.

a. Objectives

In order to address the significant gap in the extension worker-to-farmer contact ratio in Jammu & Kashmir, it is proposed to establish 2000 "Kisan Khidmat Ghars" at the panchayat level. These Ghars will act as ground-level convergence points for all services under the agriculture and allied sector. The key objectives include:
